John Grim is President of the American Teilhard Association and Mary Evelyn Tucker is Vice President along with Brian Swimme. John and Mary Evelyn are Senior Lecturers and Research Scholars at Yale University where they direct a master's program in religion and ecology. They have appointments in the School of Forestry and Environmental Studies, Yale Divinity School, and the Department of Religious Studies. They are also Environmental Ethicists-in-Residence at Yale's Interdisciplinary Center for Bioethics. They teach courses together at Yale on Environmental History and Values, Western Religions and Ecology, and Asian Religions and Ecology. John also offers courses in American Indian Religions and Ecology as well as Indigenous Religions and Ecology. Together they co-direct the Forum on Religion and Ecology at Yale (www.yale.edu/religionandecology), which arose from a series of 10 conferences on World Religions and Ecology that they organized at Harvard's Center for the Study of World Religions. They have edited the 10 volume series from the conferences and have also edited Worldviews and Ecology (Orbis Books, 1994), a Daedalus volume on "Religion and Ecology: Can the Climate Change?" (Fall 2001), and Thomas Berry's essays, The Christian Future and the Fate of Earth (Orbis 2009). They are currently writing a book on world religions and ecology for Island Press.

John has edited Indigenous Traditions and Ecology: The Interbeing of Cosmology and Community (Harvard, 2001). He is the author of The Shaman: Patterns of Religious Healing Among the Ojibway Indians (Oklahoma University Press, 1983). He has done extensive research among the Crow people in Montana as well as the Salish people on the Colville reservation in Washington State. He has also researched indigenous peoples in Japan, Korean, Taiwan, Thailand, and the Philippines.

Mary Evelyn is the author of Worldly Wonder: Religions Enter Their Ecological Phase (Open Court Press, 2003), Moral and Spiritual Cultivation in Japanese Neo-Confucianism (SUNY, 1989) and The Philosophy of Qi (Columbia University Press, 2007). She co-edited Buddhism and Ecology (Harvard, 1997), Confucianism and Ecology (Harvard, 1998), and Hinduism and Ecology (Harvard, 2000). With Tu Weiming she edited two volumes on Confucian Spirituality (Crossroad, 2004). She edited several of Thomas Berry's books including: The Great Work (Random House 1999), Evening Thoughts (Sierra Club Books and University of California Press, 2006), and The Sacred Universe (Columbia University Press, 2009). Mary Evelyn is a member of the Earth Charter International Council and has served on the International Earth Charter Drafting Committee from 1997-2000.
